on business Monday.

Constable George Nichols of Williamstown was in town Friday on official business.

J. A. R. Corwin and son have bought a heavy draught horse of Jerry O'Day of Vershire.

Mrs. Harvey W. Spear met with the misfortune recently to fall and dislocate her shoulder.

The sweet-faced doll is dead and gone and passed onto its rest.

An ugly bruiser cuddled now.

To little mother's breast.

Found at Last.

J. A. Harmon of Litchfield, West Va., now lay the little doll away.

With its soft golden hair,

In the toy cradle place instead

The funny fury bear.

Raymond Ainsworth of South Royalton was in town the first of the week, a guest at W. H. Sprague, Jr.

Azorah Barnes is moving from the farm he sold on the West Hill last fall to the place he purchased of Fred A. Fall-way.

Julian C. Hood returned to Lower-ville, Mass., Monday, having spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F.
Hood.

Elisha Burgess and son, Oliver, will carry on this year besides their two farms, the farm just vacated by Will
A. George.

B. H. Adams, Jr., returned Saturday night from Lowell, Mass., with a pair of horses which he purchased at a sale in that city.

Will A. George and family left Monday morning for Pariseville, Vt., and will likely locate in the west if they like and find a favorable opportunity.

The Minnie (Sandie) Goss home is undergoing thorough repairs and put in readiness for occupancy by F. A. Ordway and family. The work is being done by Henry Magoun.

The old bank building used several years as dental parlors by the late Dr.
Otis M. Rice, is now undergoing thorough repairs in the way of paint, paper and new shelves and is soon to be occupied by a Miss Cole of Boston as a millinery store.

Old house week will be observed in Chelsea this year, during the week of August 19 to 25.

The selection gave a hearing Saturday in the matter of granting a license to a dog belonging to G. W. Cleveland of Hinckley avenue.

A large number of witnesses were present on each side, but the evidence satisfied the board that the dog ought not to be licensed.

A deer was killed by a dog on Berlin pond in front of C. H. Stewart's Saturday night by eight of several people, who tried to restrain it, but the animal too late and it died in Mr. Stewart's barn, where it was carried, in about twenty minutes after the dog had caught and killed it. The dog is said to be known.
Game Warden Pike was notified at once.

There is an unconfirmed report that President — President — Cleveland will be principal speaker at the midsummer meeting of the Vermont Fish and Game League this summer. See-retary of State Eliot Root was to have been invited, it is said, but it was learned that he could not be secured.

Santa Barbara's Vermont Society.

About thirty-five Vermonters availed themselves of the recent opportunity to eat maple sugar at the San Marco Hotel, Santa Barbara, Cal., Tuesday evening, March 27. Among those present were Lucius Colburn, Mr. and Mrs.
E. H. Field, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Judge and Mrs. H. D. Smith, F. J.
Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stowell and daughter, Mrs. A. J. Chamberlain, Mrs.
John Reynolds and children, besides a number of Vermonters who reside in the hotel.

While seated at the tables, flash photographs were taken of the party after which all adjourned to the parlor and dining room, where a Vermont society was organized.

Mr. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP, for children, infants, weaks, etc., is a safe, reliable, non-stimulating remedy, relieves all pain, and cures all forms of rheumatism, neuralgia, etc. Perfectly safe in all cases. We would like to call your attention to the fact that this syrup has been used for many years by thousands of physicians and mothers throughout the country, and has given entire satisfaction. — Harry S. Hodges, March 27, 1907.
